Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Tuesday 09 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Dry and bright Tuesday. Wet and windy from Wednesday.

Today:
Early rain soon clearing to leave a dry and generally bright day with light winds. Some isolated sunny spells in the south, but feeling mild across the region. A little cloudier in the west later, as winds start to strengthen. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:
Starting dry, but cloud, rain and strong winds soon spreading to all parts. Rain will be persistent and occasionally heavy. Strong winds affecting all areas by dawn. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Wednesday:
Cloudy with persistent rain, heavy at times for much of the day, this becoming patchier later. Strong winds throughout, with a risk of coastal gales. Rain clearing to showers overnight. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Heavy, blustery showers Thursday with a risk of thunder and strong winds. Windy Friday and Saturday, with heavy showers, but maybe a longer period of rain overnight into Saturday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.